The mind-cure doesn't require any faith and the faith-cure doesn't require any mind.—It takes about two hundred men to help open a saloon, but only one to close it—the sheriff.—A very small piece of lead from a very cheap pistol in the hands of a fool may kill a very wise man.—Chinese names are like the Chinese themselves—you can't tell them apart until you get them together.—Sing Sing Prison Star of Hope.

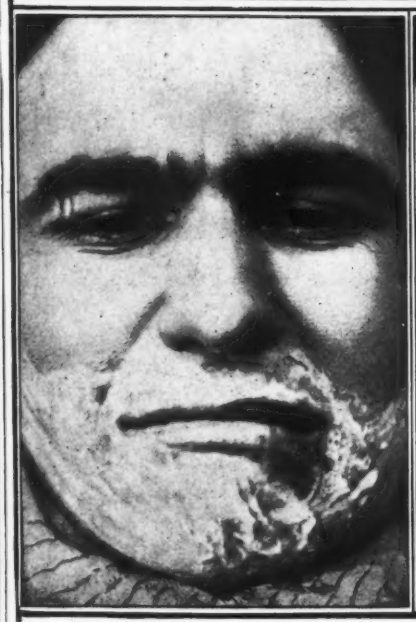
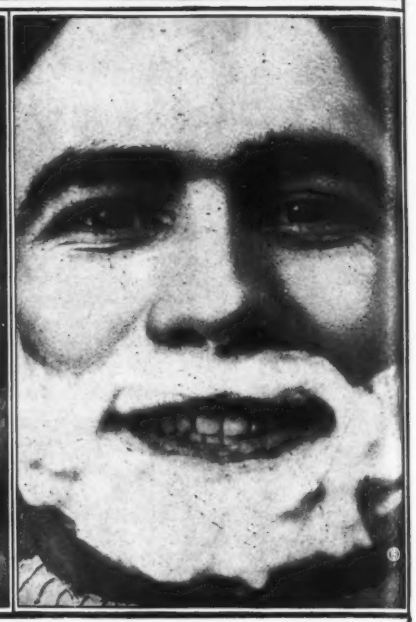
WILLIAMS' SHAVING SOAP



This is how he looked when he tried a substitute for Williams' Soap, which his dealer urged upon him.



This is his expression when he had again procured the "Old Reliable" Williams' Shaving Soap.

DON'T be persuaded to buy something represented to be "just as good as WILLIAMS' SHAVING SOAP, and a little cheaper." The dealer may make a trifle more, but you'll be sad. Instead of the Big, Thick, CREAMY Lather, and the SOOTHED, REFRESHED, VELVETY FEELING of the face, that comes after shaving with WILLIAMS' SOAP, the chances are that you'll get one of the thin, frothy, quick-drying kinds that dull the razor and leave your face parched and drawn and smarting, if nothing worse.

It DON'T PAY to take chances on SHAVING SOAP. 99 out of every hundred men will tell you that Williams' are the ONLY PERFECT shaving soaps.

Williams' Shaving Soaps are used by all first-class barbers, and are sold everywhere.

Williams' Shaving Stick, 25 cts. Luxury Shaving Tablet, 25 cts.
Genuine Yankee Shaving Soap, 10 cts. Williams' Glycerated Tar Soap, 15 cts.
Williams' Shaving Soap (Barbers'), 6 round cakes, 1 lb., 40 cts. Exquisite also for Toilet. Trial tablet for 2-cent stamp. By mail if your dealer does not supply you.

OUR COMPLIMENTS to Spain, and will she kindly join us in celebrating the fourth of July?

WE SHALL have two independence days this year—the regular one and the day that Dewey gets here.

A MICHIGAN WOMAN stole bonnets and buried them in her back yard. When a woman steals it is a self-evident fact that she is insane.

ONE CLERGYMAN preaches that Sunday-schools are agencies for evil, and another that it is proper to sleep in church. In the interest of morality will it ever be advisable to close the pulpits?

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH IN THE ARCTICS.

FIRST EXPLORER—"Great Scott, man! what's that strapped on that last sledge?"

SECOND EXPLORER—"Dot's Limburger cheese. Ve drob off a pound each mile. Now ve can't get loosded, ain'd it?"

FOURTH OF JULY ON THE BEACH.

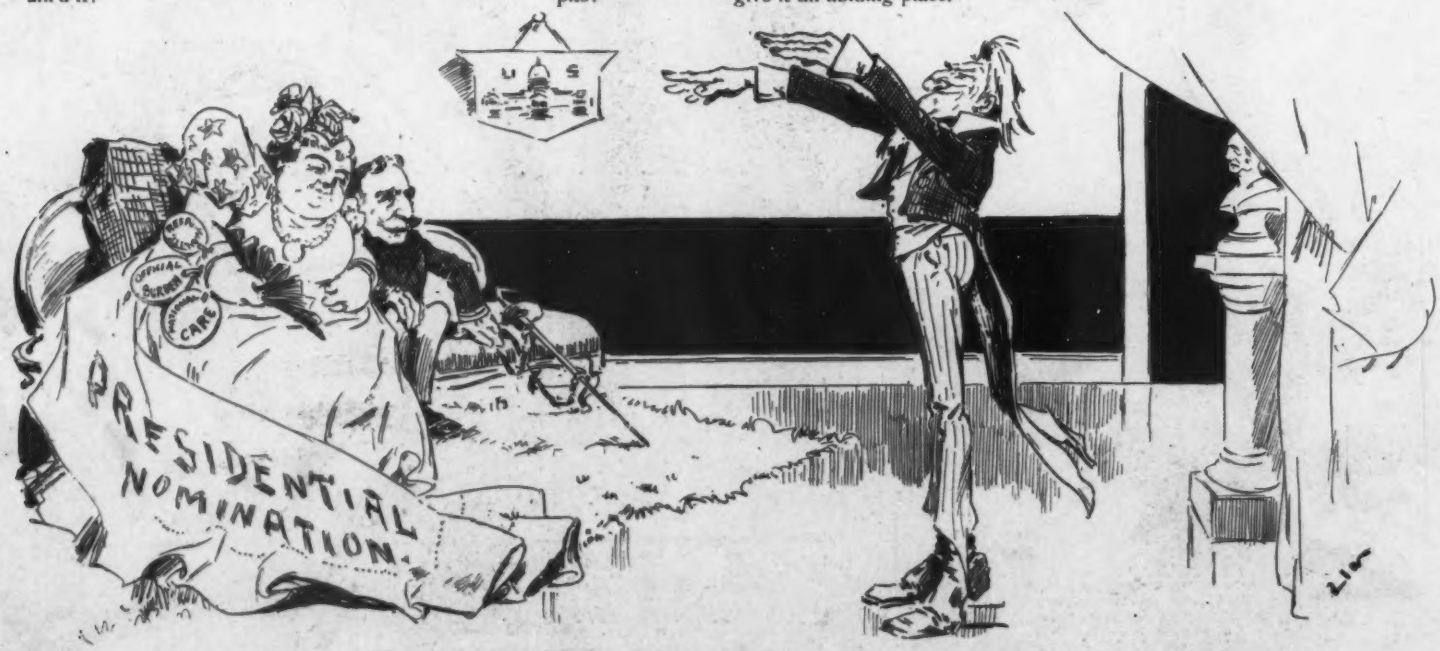
PENELOPE (blushingly)—"Now that we are engaged, Dick, don't you—er—think that we had better see about a ring?"

DICK—"Sure! (Puff.) There's one, sweetheart. It'll last as long as the engagement will."

A HEALER in Brooklyn goes to the penitentiary for five months because her patient died and she hadn't registered. If you don't register you can neither vote nor cure.

CELEBRATE.

THERE IS MORE to celebrate this fourth of July than there ever has been. There is more of the country and more of the patriotism that stands by the country. The eagle has spread far beyond his previous measurement and his shriek is louder and more prolonged. Of course there are anti-expansion men now, as there were copperheads in the 'sixties and tories a hundred years ago; but the eagle goes right on and the old banner has a right to all the new homes and hopes that are ready to give it an abiding-place.

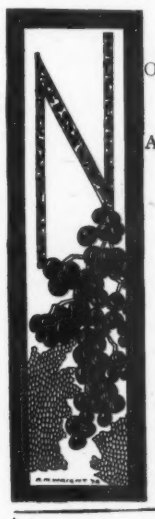


COULD IF HE WOULD.

UNCLE SAM—"Take her, my boy, and a thousand blessings!"
DEWEY—"No, thanks, uncle. I love your daughter, but not enough to marry her."

NO TIME LOST.

JUDGE suggests a system of quick beer-tunnels on our country roads for the use of country scorching bicyclists.



WHOOP!

NOW grandmamas throughout the land
Expire in great profusion
And all our business interests
Are scattered in confusion.

You ask what plague has swept the town
And struck the dear old ladies.
Why, none ; but Dewey 'll soon be home—
Let business go to hades !

MC LANDBURGH WILSON.

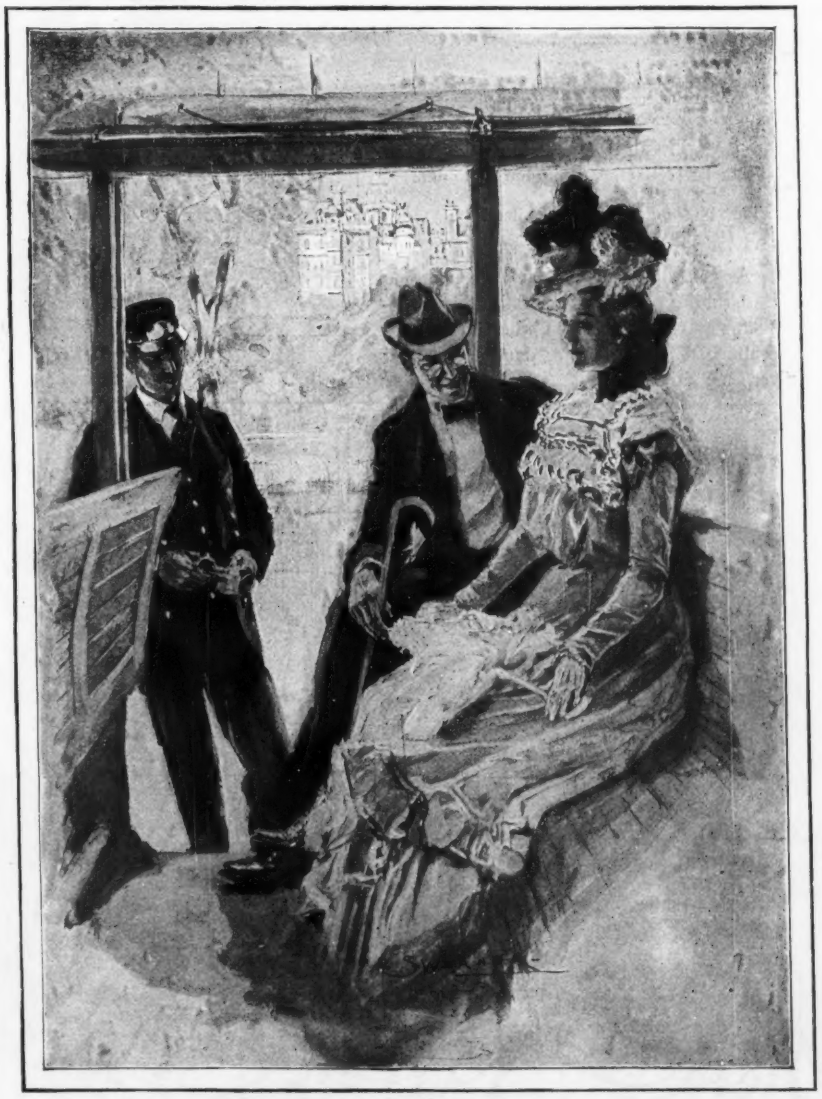
FATE.

Crawford—"What became of that friend of yours who went all through the war without a scratch?"

Crabshaw—"A small boy accidentally killed him on the Fourth with a toy-pistol."

COULDN'T SLEEP ON DEWEY DAY.

SQUIRREL (to woodpecker)—"Look here ; if you can't stop that knocking I'll complain to the board of health. I can't get a wink of sleep."



HOW HE SPENT HIS FOURTH.

MR. NEWLYWED (of Lonelyville)—"I've been to the employment agency and got a jewel of a cook—coming to-morrow, dear. Said she'd just as leave live here as not, and was three years steady in her last place, just as lonesome as this."

MRS. NEWLYWED—"And where was that?"

MR. NEWLYWED—"I forget whether she said it was on a whaler or a lumber-schooner, but I know she'll like Lonelyville."

JUDGE'S FAVORITES.

MAUDE ADAMS AS JULIET.

Dear Maude, on independence day
Our thoughts revert to themes of glory,
And compliments we strive to pay
To names beloved in song and story.

Dewey, the hero, first is set
On fame's bright scroll, with homage due:
Next comes our heroine, Juliet—
And who is Juliet but you?

A FOURTH FANCY.

TO BRING G. Washington up to date
I as a patriot feel
That he should ride with smiles elate
In fireworks on a wheel.

A CLOSE RESEMBLANCE.

Mrs. O'Donovan (readjusting her glasses)—"Yez risimble yure mither so mooch, Norah, Oi'd know yez her daughter if Oi'd niver seen aither av yez."

TO BE PITIED.

AS BETH went by a vegetable market she saw exposed for sale a box of crooked-necked squashes. "Do see," she exclaimed, turning to her mother, "that box of poor little hump-backed pumpkins!"

AN INGENIOUS PLEA.

Freddie—"Didn't one of your ancestors fight in the war of the revolution?"

Cobwigger—"Sure he did, my boy."

Freddie—"Then don't you think you should buy me more than a quarter's worth of fire-crackers to celebrate the day?"

Mr. Rosenstein, the pawnbroker, closes his fourth of July pyrotechnic display with the above burst of glory.

"THE RIVALS."

FOURTH OF JULY, 1899.

AMONG the flags, the starry flags,
Some scorched and torn with shot and shell,
Or blurred with rain, or frayed to rags
Each with its thrilling tale to tell,
Some bright and new, hang out, I say,
A dark-blue union jack to-day.

For out upon the lonely deep
Our brave Olympia homeward sails,
Beneath the stars that never sleep,
Beneath the sun that never fails.
And for her sake hang out, I say,
The dark-blue union jack to-day

With Dewey's name on every tongue,
His fame a beacon through the world,
When to the morning wind is flung
The flag defeat has never furled,
Beside its glory hang, I say,
The dark-blue union jack to-day.

HOW THE TRAMPS GOT THE BEST OF THE ARTIST ON THE FOURTH OF JULY.

ETIQUETTE FOR THE FOURTH.

KEEP moving about on the Fourth. It is always the innocent bystander who gets shot.

The evening of the Fourth is a very auspicious time to sit with your best girl and watch for shooting stars.

Should you accidentally shoot somebody with your toy pistol don't add insult to injury by telling him that you didn't know it was loaded.

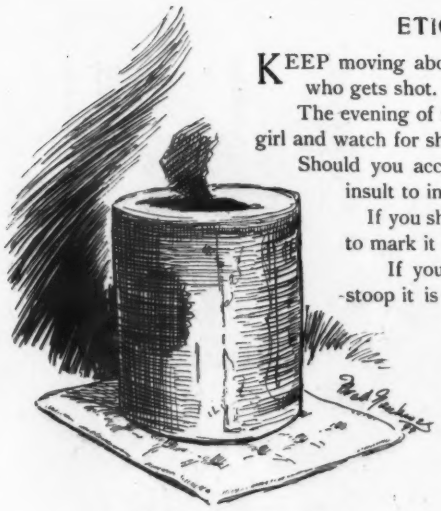
If you should buy a pyrotechnic cigar to hoax a friend with be sure to mark it in such a way that you won't light it yourself by mistake.

If you give a little private display of fireworks from your front stoop it is cheaper in the end to hire an experienced man to set them off.

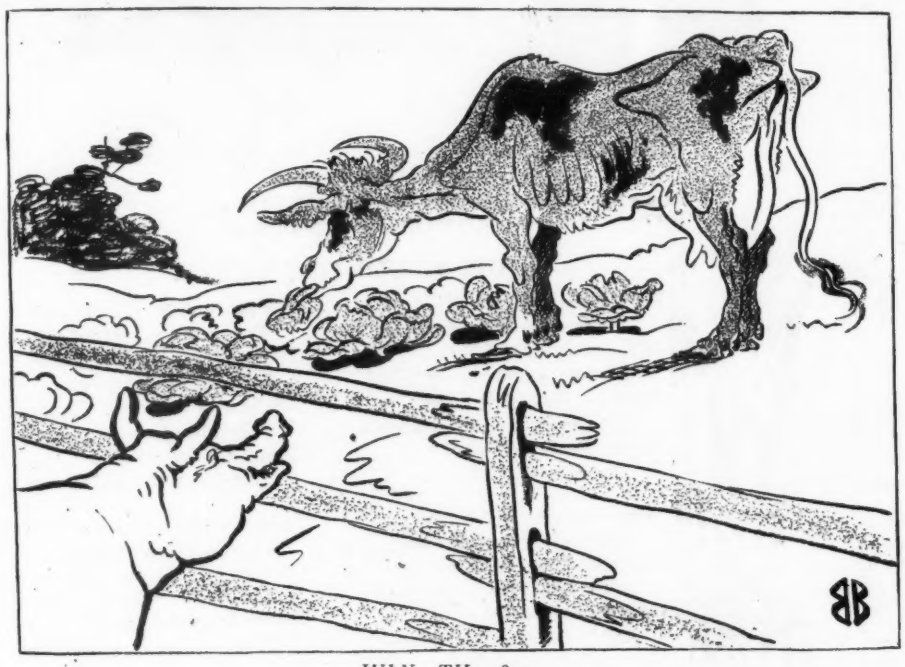
The cautious pedestrian will continue to walk in the middle of the street for fear the mischievous kid at the windows should drop a lighted fire-cracker down the back of his neck.

If you own a war-relic in the shape of a mauser rifle don't think it is a harmless weapon just because the Spaniard who once possessed it was unable to hit anything with it.

J. J. O'CONNELL.



A CAN-ON-CRACKER.



JULY 4TH, 1899.

THE PIG—"That's what they call spare-ribs and cabbage on the Fourth."

JUDGE'S WORLD'S FAIR.

NO. XXV.—ROYAL BENGAL.

On England's empire never sets
The universal sun;
Nor e'er the English heart forgets
Its fairest, dearest one.

The Indian gem, the Ceylon pearl—
And yet, no puny stripling—
Is the royal Bengal British girl
That's sung by Rudyard Kipling.

TOO DANGEROUS

Bobbie—"Why must I go outdoors to shoot off my crackers? I never did before."

Mrs. Crabshaw—"But, my dear, we now live in a fire-proof house."

THOSE LITTLE RED STICKS.

BABY'S FOURTH-OF-JULY COMPLAINT.

I WANT some red sticks, like the rest of the boys—
Those sticks that go "fizz" with a beautiful noise.
I think it is dreadfully selfish of Dix
That he won't give me one of his little red sticks.

At first I was good, for I thought I could coax
The new playthings from grandma or some of the folks.
'Twouldn't work; so I've screamed till I'm tired and sick,
And still they won't give me a single red stick.

EMMA C. DOWD.

AS USUAL.

Cobwigger—"What happened when the committee was all ready to shoot off the fireworks?"

Freddie—"It rained."

A ROYAL WELCOME.

BEGGAR—"Lady, wouldn't yer like ter contribute ten cents toward de Dewey celebration?"

LADY—"Toward what?"

BEGGAR—"De Dewey celebration, mum. Every drink I take ter-morrer will mean three extra yells fer de hero uv Manila and de fourth of July."

HOW A COON WAS SMOKED OUT ON DEWEY DAY.

1. MOSE—"I 'spects, 'Rastus, dar mus' be er coon in dar."

2. MOSE—"Tote me more er dat 'ar kindlin'-wood, 'Rastus. We done gwine smoke um out."

3. MOSE (from inside)—"Whaffor yo' jammin' yo'r fadder up in de tree liken dat, yo' brack 'Rastus? Won't I lam yo', dough, when I come out?"

4. THE BEAR—"I think, myself, there is a coon in there."

5. And, sure enough, there was.

THEIR FOURTH.

HUSBAND—"Heavens! what a racket our baby, Dewey, makes."
WIFE—"Well, John, he is our glorious fourth, you know."

THE HOUSE FOR DEWEY.

WHEN, crowned with a victor's glory,
Dewey comes home from sea,
What to the nation's hero
Shall the gift of the nation be?
None but the highest honor
For Dewey, the tried and true—
Dewey, the bravest sailor
That ever wore the blue.

Weary and worn with battle
And the tedious voyage west,
Where shall the great commander
At the end of his journey rest?
Open the white-house portals
And lead the hero through—
Dewey, the bravest sailor
That ever wore the blue.

The hand can be safely trusted
To steer the ship of state
That sent the enemy's squadron
So soon to a watery fate.
The heart of an old sea-viking
Within him lives anew—
Dewey, the bravest sailor
That ever wore the blue.

Laden with captured banners,
His vessel rides the foam.
Open the white-house portals
And bid him welcome home.
Never a house less famous
Than the nation's own will do
For Dewey, the bravest sailor
That ever wore the blue.

MINNA IRVING.

WHERE THE STRUGGLE BEGINS.

Sniff—"The more I study existing conditions the more I become convinced that Pittsburg is destined to play a very important part in the future history of our country."

Pecksniff—"Yes; in some respects it is our leading industrial centre."

Sniff—"Yes; but as near as I can make out it is the place where the city limits of New York and Chicago will meet within the next half-century."

THE PATRIOTIC GIRL.

THIS season she's more than transcendent,
Poor man can do nothing but woo.
On the Fourth she comes out quite resplendent
In her shirt-waist of red, white and blue.

A VICTIM.

HE IS minus a piece of his arm,
For the surgeon found out he must dock it.
Though he tried to keep out of all harm,
He lit the wrong end of the rocket.

PARTICULAR.

She—"Why don't you tell me? Can't you take me into your confidence?"

He—"Yes; but I don't care to take all of your friends."

THE BAD BOY.

ALTHOUGH of course 'twould be a fib
To say he doesn't like the rocket,
He much prefers to take a squib
And drop it slyly in your pocket.

WHY REPRESENTATIVE BARBERS USE

COLGATE & CO.'S SHAVING SOAP.

This phenomenal Soap has only been on the market a little over a year, and yet in this short space of time the leading Barbers are practically unanimous in declaring that it is the ideal shaving-soap, containing all the qualities necessary to make shaving pleasant, both to them and to their customers. The following letters speak for themselves. They are but a few of hundreds which we have received. If you shave yourself, ask your dealer for this soap or our Demulcent Shaving Stick, and as soon as you use it you will realize the secret of Colgate & Co.'s Shaving Soaps.

MUTUAL LIFE BUILDING

MESSRS. COLGATE & CO.
Dear Sirs: New York, April 20, 1898.

Your Barbers' Shaving Soap does not become slimy in the shaving-mugs, as many other soaps do, and on account of the clean and delicate perfume the lather washed from the mugs after use and passing through the waste-pipes leaves them in a clean and sweet condition. All in all, your Barbers' Shaving Soap surpasses all requirements.

F. W. ZITSCH.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS

At Manila

When two hundred and nineteen carloads of Schlitz beer were shipped to Manila, the world wondered. What industry was this that shipped its product by a mile and a half of trains to that remote spot?

Yet that enterprise has been repeated a hundred times over. Wherever civilization has gone, Schlitz beer has followed. Agencies for it have for twenty years been established in many of the farthest parts of the earth.

Schlitz beer has been known in South Africa since the white man first went there. It is shipped in large quantities to the frigid wilds of Siberia. It is advertised in the quaint newspapers of China and Japan. It is the beer of India—the beverage of the Egyptian and the Turk.

It is too little to say that the sun never sets on Schlitz agencies, for it is literally true that it is always noonday at one of them.

By its absolute purity and its quality, Schlitz beer has won and held a conspicuous supremacy everywhere against the competition of the world.

Civilization demands purity, and that demand calls for Schlitz.

The Edison Concert Phonograph

Mr. Edison has perfected the Phonograph. This is the instrument.

It perfectly reproduces the human voice—JUST AS LOUD—just as clear—just as sweet.

It duplicates instrumental music with pure-toned brilliance and satisfying intensity. Used with Edison Concert Records, its reproduction is free from all mechanical noises. Only the music or the voice is heard. It is strong and vibrant enough to fill the largest auditorium. It is smooth and broad enough for the parlor.

The highest type of talking machine ever before produced bears no comparison with the Edison Concert Phonograph. The price is $125. Full particulars can be obtained from all dealers in Phonographs, or by addressing THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., New York, asking for Concert Catalogue No. III.

Six other styles of Phonographs, including the Edison Gem, price $7.50.
